READ TOGETHER

Ecclesiastes 1:12–2:26

1. What are common ways we seek fun, pleasure, entertainment, etc?
2. When we're pursuing the things of this world, what does that reveal about our relationship with God?
3. If you have everything you want in the world but don't have Jesus, what's the point?

LIVE IT

While we know the only place to find fulfillment is in Christ, the reality is that our actions demonstrate that we're searching for it in other places. Perhaps the most prominent place we look is the world of entertainment. It's easy to turn on a screen and disengage. Instead, we should each ask ourselves a difficult question: am I addicted to distraction?

All of the fun and the stuff this world offers is meaningless compared with the infinite value of knowing Christ. Do our actions and priorities reflect this truth?

LEAN ON GOD

Dear God,

Help me focus on what matters to You. Forgive me for all the times I've pursued the things of this world instead of You. I pray that You ignite a holy passion within me to seek You and Your Kingdom first.

In Jesus name,

Amen
